

Cedric Hohnstadt

www.cedricstudio.com

cedric@cedricstudio.com

1546 E 88th Street, Bloomington, MN 55425

(952) 412-7686

Specialized Skills Illustration, character design, toy design, marker comps, project management.

Experience Have owned and managed my own illustration studio for over fifteen years.

Worked on hundreds of projects for end clients including Hasbro, Disney, Coca-Cola, DreamWorks, Cartoon Network, Nickelodeon, Toys-R-Us, Walmart, Verizon, Scholastic, Canon, Hewlett-Packard, Best Buy, Mazda, Orville Redenbacher, and General Mills.

Character designer on 3-2-1 Penguins!, a 3D-animated TV series (outer space action-comedy) on NBC.

Designed characters, costumes and props for VeggieTales.

Supervised animation of Mr. Potato Head for Hasbro website.

Toy concept artist (through Hasbro, Peter Green Design and DecoPac, Inc.) Created concepts and/or turnarounds for properties including Toy Story, Cars, Despicable Me, Monsters vs Aliens, Ben 10, How To Train Your Dragon, Mickey Mouse Clubhouse, Little Einsteins, Hannah Montana, Avengers, and Winnie the Pooh.

Guest speaker/lecturer at various conferences and industry events.

Illustrated seven children's books.

As a courtroom sketch artist my work has appeared purchased for broadcast nationally on CNBC, 20/20, Good Morning America, and the NFL Network.

Software Photoshop, Illustrator, Flash.

Education BFA in Illustration, Minnesota State University, Moorhead MN.
Summer animation workshop at Disney Institute, Orlando FL.
Online character design course taught by Stephen Silver (via schoolism.com).
Various online workshops through Computer Graphics Master Academy (cgmwonline.com)
Periodic participation in life drawing co-ops.

Awards Silver award in Toy Design - Play Illustration 2011 International Art Competition
Pewter Plate Award from Highlights! Magazine - Illustrator of the Month, January 2013

Memberships National Cartoonists Society
Graphic Artists Guild